

bio regions

green and sustainable territory development

Latvia University of Life Sciences and Technologies

BOVA
UNIVERSITY NETWORK

ESAP

Faculty of Economics and Social Development

Co-funded by the European Union

Erasmus+ Blended intensive programme

Bioregions: Key to Sustainability

General information

- April 20 - 24, 2026
- Deadline for registration 20/02/2026
- Location: Svetes street 18, Jelgava,
Latvia

Contact person: Vineta Tetere
vineta.tetere@lbtu.lv , +371 26543783

Register here

Why should you join?

Target group: Bachelor and Master students

Learning and assessment methods: self-studies, lectures, workshops, presentations, hackathon, and field trip.

Main outcomes:

You'll gain both theoretical insight and hands-on experience to explore how bioregions can be created and developed. By the end of the course, you'll be able to prepare your own research-based abstract and poster proposal aimed at supporting sustainable development in rural areas across Europe.

